The Contact Plus Professional database software is designed to help sales and account management professionals manage multiple sales opportunities and multiple clients. Contact Plus Professional is a database application designed to maintain contacts, prospects and sales. The Contact Plus Professional software enables the sales person to define client record fields that contain client related info and data. The database enables the user to track contacts, events and possible sales. The Contact Plus Professional database application can be used by independent sales agents, independent real estate agents, independent mortgage brokers and independent professionals with multiple clients. The application is a great addition to a personal base of contacts. Thanks to the client record fields you can enter information like the following: Contact Plus Professional Features: Create multiple client records (contacts) Create multiple prospect records (contacts) Store contacts with created documents or notes Store contacts with estimated sales figures Stored phone numbers (contacts) and email addresses Sales Follow Up Email Alerts Create Estimated Quote Create Estimated Sale Create Sales Follow Up Contact Plus Professional has two event types for your contacts, estimated quotes and sales. These events can be created on clients and prospects. When a sales follow up event is created it notes that the customer has been contacted for follow-up. On the lead's record, the salesperson's name is noted with the activity. Mobile Addresses Mobile addressing features lets you store both the mobile phone and work phone numbers in the client record. All entries are instantly available. With these phone numbers, you can email a client with an updated list of services or products. Simple to Use The application is the simplest of the Contact Plus series to use. Each process, view or feature can be learned quickly with a brief training session. You can easily handle clients, contacts and prospects with ease. Contact Plus Professional User Interface The application includes a simple user interface that is intuitive to use. You can define fields for different uses or enter data in their own fields. Import contacts from outside applications like phone books. Contact Plus Professional Database Rules You can create rules for all of your clients and contacts. These rules allow you to define data elements, set default values, set required fields and set optional fields. This application includes the database rules mechanism in the entire Contact Plus series. Contact Plus Professional does not have the ability to override the default database rules, but all subsequent programs in the Contact Plus series b7e8df5c8
